Performance and Power

The Regal Commodore 3860 is typically powered by twin MERCUISER / V-DRIVE GAS MOTOR ensuring smooth handling and good fuel efficiency for a boat of its size.

Interior and Amenities

- Cabins: The interior features a spacious layout, including two staterooms. The forward master cabin has a queen-sized berth, and the aft cabin offers a cozy space with twin bunks that can be converted to a full-size berth.
- Saloon: The saloon is open and airy, with large windows for ample natural light. It has a comfortable sofa, a convertible dinette, and a fully equipped galley with a microwave, stove, refrigerator, and sink.
- Head: The bathroom (head) includes a shower, sink, and electric toilet. It is well-designed with good storage and counter space.

Deck and Cockpit

- Cockpit: The cockpit is a highlight of this model, with comfortable seating for guests, a wet bar with a refrigerator, and a large swim platform for easy access to the water. It's perfect for entertaining, with plenty of space for lounging and enjoying the sun.
- Bow and Sunbathing Area: The bow features a large sunpad for lounging, with comfortable cushions for sunbathing or relaxing.

Technology and Electronics

- Navigation and Safety: The 2007 Regal Commodore 3860 comes equipped with advanced electronics, including GPS, a VHF radio, and sonar. It may also have a radar system and autopilot depending on the specific configuration.
- Entertainment: For entertainment, you'll find an integrated stereo system, flat-screen TVs, and DVD players.

Handling and Ride

The Regal 3860 is known for its solid and stable handling. It can easily navigate both inland waters and offshore environments, with a comfortable ride in most sea conditions. The hull design is made to cut through the waves, providing a smooth cruising experience.

General Impression

Overall, the 2007 Regal Commodore 3860 offers excellent performance, luxury, and style. Its versatility makes it a great option for weekend trips, extended cruising, or just relaxing at the marina. Whether you're looking for power, comfort, or both, this model stands out in the mid-sized cruiser category.
